Crevier Classic Cars, owned by Don Crevier , was founded in 2006 and offers 25,000 square feet and storage for approximately 100 classic cars.

“This trio of classic car experts is respected throughout the international Classic Car world,” said Don Crevier, founder of Crevier Classic Cars and owner of Crevier BMW. “They sell dreams and investments and are quite adept at showing how a classic car is a tangible asset that can be appreciated and driven, but also one that could show a remarkable increase in value over the years.”

Each member of the new sales team specializes in certain aspects of the Classic Car business and brings individual strengths that are critical to clients who invest in classic cars of substantial value. “Because of their tenure and respect within the industry, Larry, Mark and El have the ability to direct clients to a number of trustworthy resources for repairs, restorations and hard-to-find parts,” said Crevier.

About Larry Alderson

Larry Alderson of Laguna Niguel, Calif., renowned classic car aficionado, and a Ferrari and Exotics expert, brings more than 30 years of experience to Crevier Classic Cars. He is “the go-to guy” for the rarest of rare, most perfectly restored or beautifully original Ferraris and exotics in the world. A true European car enthusiast, Alderson has personally owned a variety of sports cars and classics including Ferraris, Jaguars, Lotus, Bentleys, and Lagondas. He began his career in 1968 with the purchase of a Lotus Cortina. This led to the owning and racing a Lotus Super Seven, followed by a championship-winning Lotus 23. In 1979, he purchased a restoration shop in Paramount, Calif., and soon became known for superior quality restorations of early Jaguars, Ferraris and the lesser-known Italia IM5. To that point, he restored two Italias in 1988, both of which fetched record-breaking prices and helped raise the international value of these cars. Alderson is extremely well -connected in automotive society circles, belonging to organizations such as the world-famous Petersen Museum's Checkered Flag Club. He is highly in tune with current Classic Car offerings, their value, market trends, and industry happenings. Whatever breed of European, classic or exotic car it is your heart desires, Alderson knows how to find it, and it is sure to be one of the finest examples of that car around.

About Mark Drewitz

Mark Drewitz of Laguna Hills, Calif., was almost literally born in a shop. His Dad owned several repair shops as he grew up, and as such, Drewitz grew up wrenching on any and all things automotive - customs, classics, and exotics - with his father. The years came and went, and the one common thread throughout his career would be cars - studying cars, building cars and repairing cars. Now he helps match people with their dream cars. Drewitz's personal favorites are the muscle cars of the late 60s/early 70s - a time when performance was all that mattered. Other favorites include the convertibles of the 50s and early 60s - a time when style was all that mattered.

About El Hathaway

El Hathaway of Laguna Beach, Calif., has been an avid car collector for more than 30 years starting with early Fords and Corvettes and graduating to Ferraris and Jaguars. He has been heavily involved in restoring and showing a number of his stunning Jaguars at Concours and Jaguar (JCNA) events on the West Coast, winning the highest prize of "Best in Show" more than once. With his supervision of restorations, Hathaway has become an expert in the Jaguar community of collectors and has a profound knowledge of early American classics enabling him to locate desired cars for clients.
